

Edward van Geuns

Edward van Geuns is a partner at De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek (Singapore). Edward specialises in international disputes, including both international arbitration proceedings and litigation in courts in various jurisdictions. He often deals with post-acquisition disputes, supply relationships and investment arbitrations. Edward has particular experience in the energy sector, the construction sector and the transport sector.

Edward is recommended by the Legal 500 noting that he is “outstanding in cross-examinations”.

In 2009 and 2010, Edward was seconded to the International Arbitration department of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP in New York, focusing on Investor-State arbitrations.

Edward’s recent work includes representing and advising:

- a gas company in obtaining a USD 1 billion award
- a fertiliser company in two different arbitrations with a value of over USD 300 million in total
- a Thai company in an ICC arbitration under Thai law regarding the construction of a wastewater treatment plant
- an Israeli company in its high-stake dispute with a private equity firm
- Ecuador in setting aside proceedings concerning an investment arbitration award with a value of USD 14 billion
- a cement and concrete manufacturer under ICSID rules in New York regarding a USD 1 billion expropriation claim against Venezuela under the Netherlands-Venezuela BIT